

5 SENSES

I use my nose to smell.

My sense of smell lets me smell things like flowers and perfume.

I use my eyes to see.

My sense of sight lets me see things in my environment like color and people.

I use my tongue to taste.

My sense of taste gives me information about food I eat. For example, I can taste if food is salty or spicy.

I use my ears to hear.

My sense of hearing lets me hear sound. I can hear things like music and people talking.

I use my hands to touch.

My skin allows me to feel things and learn about them. For example, I can feel if a ball is hard or soft.